3 Chicago Youths Crash With Stolen Truck Wednesday

The arrest of Burton F. Blakely, 16, of 1420 Irving Park Blvd., Harold E. Brunow, 3738 N. Clark Street, and Donald L. Piefer, 961 Cuyler ave., Chicago, solved the mystery of an overturned and abandoned truck found by members of the Antioch rescue squad early Wednesday morning.

The squad was summoned to Loon Lake about 4 a. m. and found the wrecked truck, but were unable to find the driver and occupants of the truck, although blood evidenced that someone had been hurt.

Herman Holbek reported the accident to the sheriff's office and two squad cars were dispatched to the scene to search for the occupants of the truck.

The boys were seen about seven a. m. by Miss Catherine Tinker, night telephone operator, who had knowledge of the accident and search. She immediately telephoned the sheriff's office and the three boys were picked up near King's drug store.

They were taken to Waukegan, since only Brunow was hurt, being slightly cut about the head, and lodged in the county jail on an automobile larceny charge.

A lieutenant of detectives from the Chicago police force was in Waukegan Wednesday afternoon to take the young hoodlums back to Chicago and the owner of the truck was also on hand to recover the vehicle.

Board Orders Latch to Prepare Drawings for New Fire House

Leonard Latch, architect, was ordered to go ahead with plans and specifications for the new fire house at a meeting of the village board Tuesday evening. Latch had previously set up specifications and prepared drawings for the combined village hall and fire station, but in the light of changed plans, these must be revised and changed to suit the new building site and location of the building.

Members of the fire department building committee were present at the special meeting and were in complete accord with the plans of the board for the building. As one member of the building committee put it "we are awaiting the estimate of the total cost of the fire house that we may stage a drive to raise the money to cover any deficiency in funds already on hand for this purpose."

Other business conducted at the meeting concerned the approval of a building permit application by Victor Bown, who will erect an apartment and garage building on his property at 465 W. Lake street at an approximate cost of $3000.

Farm Motion Pictures Are Being Taken Here

Tuesday and Wednesday were spent taking colored movies on ten different farm locations in and about Antioch.

The movie, depicting the Future Farmer Creed, is being taken under the supervision of the Dept. of Vocational Agriculture, Springfield; and The Vocational Agriculture Dept. of The Antioch High School is one of eight school agriculture depts., in Illinois selected for taking of the pictures. The sponsor of the colored film is The Illinois Chain-Store Council. The work is being done by their Agricultural Representative, Harold Templeton, of Chicago. During the two days here he was accompanied by C. L. Kutil, local Agriculture Instructor.

Locations where movies were made are as follows:

Future Farmer World War II Memorial at the High school; Herman Farm; Antioch Packing Co.; George Winfield Farm; Jack Heick's swine project; Russell Meyer's beef project; Howard Bonner Farm; and Alan Thain's conservation activities.

More work will be done here during the grain harvesting season.

The movie will be circulated among the 440 Vocational Agriculture Departments of Illinois. Several other states have already asked for its use.

Participating schools will probably have its first use, according to Mr. Templeton.

Motorists Have Only Three Days Grace On Vehicle Tax Violation

Acting Village Clerk Laurel D. Powles said that a small rush of persons who had not yet procured 1947 automobile license tag was produced by the warning printed in last week's Antioch News, but that there were a good many who still were driving in violation of the ordinance and that arrests would follow after Monday, July 20, in all cases discovered.

Powles said that all available policemen would be on the lookout for violators after Monday and that there would be no exceptions to the rule. "So take your choice—a tag or a ticket."

Rescue Squad Has Busy Night Tuesday With Three Calls

Members of the Antioch Rescue squad were on the go from shortly after midnight Tuesday evening until 6 a. m. Wednesday morning with a variety of calls which ranged from heart attacks, car crashes to a fall down stairs.

The first call was received at 2 a. m. when the squad was called to Cross Lake by Dr. I. L. Breakstone to administer oxygen to a vacationist who had suffered a heart attack. An ambulance from Waukegan was summoned and while Capt. Herman Holbek of the squad was awaiting the ambulance in Antioch to guide it to the summer cottage a call was received from residents of Loon Lake telling of a truck accident.

A detail of squad members was sent to the scene and found the truck overturned and evidence that some of the occupants had been injured. A thorough search of the immediate vicinity revealed that the occupants of the wrecked truck had left the scene.

Under these suspicious circumstances, a call was put in to the Lake County sheriff's office and squad cars were sent to pick up the driver and occupants of the truck. Subsequent events proved that the truck had been stolen by three Chicago youths and they were arrested in Antioch later in the morning while they were searching for a doctor to treat cuts one of the young men. As the squad was leaving the scene of the wreck, a resident of the vicinity summoned Holbek to the telephone, where he found that an accident had occurred at Lee Hintersong's Loon Lake tavern.

Upon arrival the squad found that Roy Rollins, an employee, had been injured in a fall down a flight of stairs from the second floor. A doctor was summoned and splints were applied to the injured man. Rollins was taken to a Waukegan hospital where a further investigation proved that a broken collar bone was his only serious injury.

After these calls the squad men on duty, Holbek, Peterson, Allner, Yates Quadenfeld and Elmer Hawkins were ready to finish the night's sleep without interruption.

Painter Falls at Russel
The squad also gave first aid this week to Claude Sciafield, 72, 2909 Eliza Ave., Zion, last Monday when he fell from a ladder while engaged in painting the exterior of the Russell church. Sciafield was unconscious when the squad arrived, but they soon revived him and after an examination decided to take him to his home in Zion. Sciafield, however, had different ideas, and deciding that he was badly injured, insisted that he be taken to a hospital. The squadmen took him to Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, where he was thoroughly examined and assured that he was not badly hurt, after which the squad took him to his home in Zion.

Legion vs. Teen Age Ball Teams to Mix on Donkeys Friday

Laughs, Thrills, spills and comedy are promised by the promoters of a donkey ball game to be held Friday evening at the High school athletic field under the floodlights at 9 p. m.

The teen age team which has been having a good season under the management of Emil Risch, will tangle with the American Legion league team.

It is believed that a large crowd will be on hand to witness the game as a so called "Donkey Ball" is not new to the locality and the entertainment offered in other years is a good advertisement for real entertainment.

Firemen Work 11 Hours in Fire at Ravenglen Farms

Fire in Metal Hay Barn Believed Started By Static

A fire which is believed to have been started by either spontaneous combustion or by a spark induced by static electricity was responsible for the loss of about seventy-five tons of hay and considerable damage to a circular metal hay barn at Ravenglen Farms, Route 45, just south of the junction with route 173, on Saturday afternoon.

The blaze, which occurred when the farm employees were blowing chopped hay into the building was discovered at noon and a call to the Antioch fire department was received at 12:05. When the firemen arrived the hay within the building was smoldering and wooden parts of the barn were a flame.

The metal sheeting on the outside of the building was heated to a point that turned water into steam when a stream was directed on it, and a good deal of smoke hampered the efforts of firemen inside the building. Some difficulty in getting water into the building was encountered as the only outside openings were at the top, near the roof.

An effort to blow a spray of water up the blower pipe of the chopping machine proved to be futile, and finally, when the building had been cooled down to rid it of smoke, a section of the outer sheeting was ripped off with a chain and tractor and water was sprayed directly on the hay. Farm workers and firemen then forked the smoldering hay out of the building where it was completely extinguished.

The Lake Villa fire department reported at the scene soon after the arrival of Antioch's equipment and both departments were on the job until about 10:30 p. m.

Approximately 20,000 gallons of water were used in fighting the fire, with both the Lake Villa and Antioch water trucks making about ten trips each.

Grade Summer School Recreation Program Now in Full Swing

The Antioch grade school summer recreation program is now in full swing with large numbers of grade school children attending the daily sessions.

One hundred and fourteen children attended the picnic held Friday. Highlight of the afternoon program was the Hat Show. All shapes, sizes and colors were on display.

Joanne Wilton, with her inverted lamp shade and roses received a prize for the largest hat. Jack Nelson had the smallest hat. A composition of lettuce leaves, roses and radishes set dashing over one eye secured the title of the prettiest hat for Ruth Kufalk. The most original hat was worn by Karen Horton, a shiny new pan scraper decorated with four feathers. Little Jerry Jacobs wore a football helmet with flowing white paper napkins waving from it, and received a prize for the funniest hat. Dennis Johnson wore a hat over 200 years old.

Special mention was given to the hats worn by Lynn Grey, Bill Horton, Sue Wolfenbaker, Phyllis Petersen, Jill Gaston and Fred Clarke.

On Friday, July 18, all of the boys and girls have been asked to bring individual lunches in paper bags. These will be put together and each will receive a different bag at noon time. Lemonade will be made at the school grounds. Each one is asked to bring his own paper cup. This will be an all-group, all-day affair, starting at 10:00 A. M.

On Monday, July 21, the group coming from 10:30-12:00 will accompany the afternoon group swimming at Silver Lake, Wisconsin.

The 1947 Illinois State fair's big premium list is now being distributed. Copies may be had upon request to the State fair, Springfield. The list outlines more than three thousand classes and $284,614 in premiums, besides general fair information.

Inquiries for showings and competition are running well ahead of other years, indicating a probable new record in total entries, according to Arnold P. Benson, state director of agriculture.

The fair will be held August 8 to 17, inclusive.

Childhood Disillusionment

Tim O'Connel On Mend After Heart Attack Sat. Night

Tim O'Connel is reported to be gaining in strength daily after a heart attack suffered Saturday evening. The attack occurred late Saturday evening and he was taken to Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan after treatment by a doctor and the Antioch Rescue squad.

Reports today say that while he is not well, that a gradual improvement is evident, and that he will soon be back at his home on Victoria street.

New Child Labor Law Is Now in Effect

The employment of children, boys and girls under 16, in, about or in connection with any establishment in which intoxicating alcoholic liquors are served, or in any bowling alley, pool room, billiard room, skating rink, exhibition park, or place of amusement, public messenger or delivery service, garage, filling station, service station, or as a bellboy in any hotel or rooming house, or in connection with power-driven machinery or other hazardous occupations, is illegal under Illinois new Child Labor Law. State Director of Labor Robert L. Gordon, announced today.

This Law was approved by Governor Dwight H. Green, June 30, 1945 to become effective six months after proclamation by the President of the United States of cessation of hostilities. The President's proclamation was issued on December 31, 1946.

However, minors between the ages of 14 and 16 years may, under the new Law, be employed outside of school hours and during school vacations, but not in any dangerous or hazardous factory work or in any occupation otherwise prohibited by law or by order or regulation made in pursuance of the Law. Such minors may not, however, be employed unless there is first procured and placed on file for inspection by au-

Local Teachers Enroll in Lake Forest College

Seven local grade school teachers have enrolled for the summer sessions of Lake Forest College, to be held at Waukegan Township High school during the summer months. They are: Mrs. Geo. Garland, Mrs. Harry Greenlee, Mrs. Roy Kufalk, Mrs. Richard Whitacre, Mrs. Frank Powles, Mrs. Fred Yates, and Mrs. Elmer Baethke. The evening school has an enrollment of 26 women and two men.

Miss Loretta Kuligowski, of Cross Lake, is attending the regular summer school at the college. The school has an unusually large registration this year numbering 244 men and 66 women.

Secy. of State Barrett Awarded Certificate of Recognition by Legion

Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett is today the holder of the American Legion Citation of Recognition as a tribute for his employment of veterans.

Secretary Barrett, who is himself a veteran of both wars, is the first employer in the Capitol City to receive the national Legion citation. He was nominated for the award by Shangri-La Post No. 1064, Springfield.

The citation commends Mr. Barrett for "his unselfish service, cooperation and aid to the Legion's national program for the employment of veterans."

Legion Carnival IS Huge Success

Is Called "Good Show" By All; Was Enjoyed By Young and Old

With the weatherman working in perfect harmony, the American Legion summer carnival, held last week was a complete success. What is thought to have been the largest crowd ever to have attended, an affair of this sort packed the grounds on Saturday evening, and the other nights were almost as good.

Old and young seemed to turn loose a pent-up enthusiasm as the carnival got under way. Local residents, summer visitors and children thronged the grounds and waiting lines were "qued-up" before the ride ticket boxes within minutes after the carnival opened.

The Kiddie automobile ride and the merry-go-round were running to capacity until time for the youngsters to go home each of the four nights of the carnival.

The Legion and Auxiliary posts are to be congratulated on the fine conduct of the carnival and the lack of the usual rowdiness and bad conduct which is sometimes exhibited at affairs of this type. Six special policemen were provided for by the organization as well as a number of men who acted as watchmen, car parkers and other helpers around the grounds.

The considerable sum of money realized by the Legion will be used to further the regular Legion and Auxiliary work, upkeep on the Legion Home, youth activity and other Legion projects for community betterment.

Rev. Benton Woods Is Temporary Pastor of Methodist Church

Chaplain of Fla. Academy To Act as Pastor Until August

A capacity assemblage was on hand Sunday morning, July 12, at Antioch Methodist church to hear a sermon delivered by the Rev. Benton B. Wood, chaplain and faculty member at Riverside Academy, Hollywood, Florida. Rev. Wood was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of the Rev. Warren C. Henslee, pastor of the church for the past 14 years.

Rev. Wood is vacationing in Fox Lake for the summer season and was thus enabled to take over the work until Richard Tuttle, Centralia, Washington, the permanent pastor, arrives some time in August. Rev. Tuttle, who was recently married, is very interested in youth work.

Rev. Wood is also interested in youth work, having been an instructor in colleges for the past 20 years, and at present is chaplain of Riverside academy, the largest in the United States, with the exception of West Point. A wealth of experience in general topics has been gained by his many years of army service as he has been a member of the army or reserve service since the first World War. He conducts chapel services before an average of one thousand students weekly at Riverside.

Frank Kennedy, Jr. O. K. After Truck Tips Over Saturday

Frank Kennedy, Jr., is back at home today, apparently none the worse for an accident which occurred Saturday morning at 11:30 a. m. on route 173 west of Antioch.

Kennedy, who is employed by the township highway department, was driving a truck loaded with five yards of gravel, when an automobile driven by an elderly Chicagoan stopped suddenly in front of him. He swerved to go around the stopped car and was forced to swing completely off the road on the left hand side to avoid hitting a bus which was approaching.

In going into the ditch, the truck overturned and he was badly bruised and shaken up. He was taken to St. Therese hospital, Waukegan, where he remained for five days for treatment of strained back muscles and general observation. He returned to his home Wednesday.

The truck was little damaged and was back in use on Monday.

Pastor of Air to Be Speaker July 27 at Millburn Church

Dr. John Holland, Pastor of WLS Little Brown Church To Give Sermon

Dr. John W. Holland, first to be officially appointed pastor of a radio station, will deliver the morning sermon at Millburn Congregational church, Sunday, July 27, on the occasion of the church's fourth annual "Home Sunday," according to information furnished by Rev. L. H. Messersmith of the church.

Dr. Holland has had a long and interesting career in the ministry, having been appointed civil chaplain to workers in the Canal Zone by Teddy Roosevelt in 1908. He has held the position as pastor of radio station WLS for the past 14 years, having been appointed by Bishop Waldorf, the first minister to hold such an appointment officially. His early life was spent at Wilton, Iowa, after which he was graduated from Iowa Wesleyan and Garrett Bible Institute. During his association with WLS he has fostered the growth of the Little Brown Church of the Air, and has become closely associated with the Dinner Bell program, as well as the Morning Devotions program.

Other features of the Home Sunday will include a "pot luck" dinner at noon and visiting and quiet games in the afternoon.

The program arranged, coupled with the opportunity to hear a speaker of the caliber of Dr. Holland, is certain to draw a capacity crowd to the annual event, and a cordial invitation to all is extended by the pastor and congregation of the church.

Nicholas Says Farm Accidents Planned

Farm accidents don't happen—they're planned, believes Farm Adviser Ray T. Nicholas. And the big job during National Farm Safety Week is to stop planning farm accidents.

Proof that accidents are planned, Nicholas says, can be found in the case of the pitchfork. The hired man tosses it out of the haystack by the barn. There was an accident being planned for the little boy that came running around the corner an hour later.

We plan an accident every time we let children ride on tractors and other farm machines, Nicholas says. Sure, it's fun. But tractors often jerk when they start up or stop, and they often find a hidden rock to bounce over.

It's not hard to plan accidents for children. Leaving a sharp ax or other farm tools within reach is the first step. The same goes for gasoline, poison dusts and sprays. When there are children around, an open stock tank always is a potential accident.

Anyone can add to the list of planned accidents. There are just as many planned for adults as there are for children. There are about as many in the house as there are in the farmyard, Nicholas says it might be a good idea just to check the accidents about to happen the next time you walk through the house and out into the farmyard to do the chores.

Mrs. Joseph Shiels, of Philadelphia, Pa., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Grunow, and family this week.

Taken For Granted

Some of the most valuable institutions in this country are just "taken for granted." They aren't featured in the headlines. They rarely make news. They simply go on day after day doing an essential job.

Fire insurance is such a service, and the Texas City disaster of mid-April is an example of its quiet efficiency and high standards of public responsibility. On June 26, an official of the National Board of Fire Underwriters disclosed that more than 90 per cent of the total number of claims had already been paid. This was made possible by the Board's "Catastrophe Plan" which took every possible short cut and greatly reduced the time normally required for inventories and appraisals. As a result, most Texas City businesses are again in operation, and the city is back on its feet.

The remaining unpaid claims are principally those of the large industrial plants which were destroyed. They require time to adjust their complicated losses. These concerns, unlike small business, can command whatever capital is needed for rebuilding and do not need unusual speed in insurance settlements.

Insurance policies were all that stood between thousands of Texas City people and financial disaster—and quick payment reduced the economic effects of the tragedy to a minimum. Fire insurance voluntarily met an emergency condition with emergency methods of doing business. That responsiveness to public need is typical of American enterprise.

Retailing and Our Economic System

Gordon K. Creighton of the National Retail Dry Goods Association recently observed that one of the jobs of retailers is to emphasize the merits of the American free enterprise system to the people.

Stores represent the closest contact millions of people have with American business. Last year, the nation spent $127,000,000,000 for goods and services—and $96,000,000,000 of this amount was spent in stores of one kind or another. We turn to the retailer for our needs as naturally as we turn to a faucet for water.

Furthermore, American retailing in all its branches is a perfect example of the competitive system at work. This is true of chains, independents and all other types of merchandise outlets. Every kind of merchant is seeking new ways to attract trade—and to offer lower prices, better qualities, larger stocks and improved services.

Retailing's contribution to American living standards is tremendous. In no other country are consumers in small towns offered the same kind of goods at the same price as consumers in great cities. This, too, is a result of competition.

Retailing, lastly, is an example of the fact that in this country anyone can go as far as his abilities and ambitions permit. All the big chain systems developed from small stores started by people who were determined to get ahead. Opportunity such as that distinguishes our economic system from all others.

Faith In America

Within the next few years the electric industry plans to spend a total of four billion dollars on a huge construction program. Every dollar of this astronomical sum will be spent in local communities and the plants and lines it builds will be loaded with every form of taxation the authorities can think up. State and Federal regulatory agencies will be alert to see that electric consumers are given the best possible service at the lowest possible rates. There will be no running of the local citizenry to Washington, D. C., for funds to complete half-finished projects. The power will be coming from business enterprises that will pay taxes right along with the grocery store, the newspaper, the bank and other local enterprise.

Those areas where socialized power is in full flower cannot look forward to enjoying their normal share of this expansion program. Taxpayers industry cannot compete with tax-exempt, unregulated, politically-managed projects. Probably a good part of the four billion dollars which the electric utilities plan to spend will be spent to forestall a future power shortage in the sections of the country which still have confidence in the privately owned electric company. They are planning years ahead—something political projects will never do. As the people who depend upon government power dams have found to their sorrow, appropriations from Congress are a precarious foundation on which to build any plans because politics is always the motivating influence, not real need or responsibility.

It is indeed encouraging to find an industry that has been badgered for more than a decade by deliberate efforts of powerful political groups to put the government into the power business, still with sufficient stamina and faith in America to launch a four billion dollar program of construction. It will be a sad day for our country if the socialists should ever succeed in killing such initiative in private citizens—in favor of the unimaginative stop-gap fumbblings that characterize the bureaucrat in business.

and children, of Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hughes, of Racine, were supper guests at the Ed Hoffman home Sunday.

The sixth meeting of the Millburn Maidens 4-H club was held at Sherwood Park, Lake Villa, where the girls had a picnic dinner on Wednesday, July 9. Four visitors were present. Mrs. Eric Anderson, leader of the group, discussed Achievement Day with the girls. Swimming was enjoyed.

A. B. McDonald spent Thursday and Friday at Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denman returned home Friday from a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Colorado, and are now at home in their apartment in the Upton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tillich and son, Michael, of Chicago, spent several days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tillich.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bonner and son, John, were dinner guests at the Raymond Hauser home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoffman and son, George, were dinner guests at the Carl Christy home at Beach Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Bauman, of Barrington, were callers at the Howard Bonner home Sunday evening.

The bakery sale and ice cream social sponsored by the July committee of the Ladies Aid Thursday evening was well patronized and $60 was added to the treasury.

Members of the Masonic Lodge and Eastern Star chapter, their families and friends attended the church service Sunday morning. A generous offering was taken for the building fund for a new Masonic temple.

Millburn Home Bureau will have a picnic at Fox River Park, Wis., Friday, July 18.

Mrs. James Mair and son, Andrew, also James Clegg, of Chicago, spent the weekend at the Carl Anderson home. Mrs. Mair remained for a week's visit.

LAKE VILLA

Rev. Dixon announces the topic, "How big is your woodpile?" Taken from Isaiah 44:16-17 for the worship service at the Community church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Wesley club for boys and girls, 14 of them, in charge of Rev. and Mrs. Dixon, of the Community church enjoyed an outing last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. Eaton, northwest of the village. Games were played, Mr. Summers, of the Hooper drug store donated ice cream for the group and Mr. Mahoney donated the pop which added much to the festivities.

Donna Reidel, Lois Loescher, Marvin Walker, Jr., Philip Wagner, Jack Armstrong and Paul Williamson, because of their perfect attendance at Sunday school, were privileged to attend the Northern District Junior camp at Long Lake last week and enjoyed every minute of it.

Rev. and Mrs. Ira B. Allen, former pastor here, now of N. W. Iowa conference, stopped off for a short visit at the Charles Kelly home on their way to Detroit where Rev. Allen had a speaking engagement on Sunday. From there they go on to Ohio for more engagements. Their daughter, Rosemary, is with Mr. and Mrs. Kelly until her parents return from their trip.

The Boy Scouts in charge of their leader, David Schrum, enjoyed a trip in the school bus to St. Charles last Thursday and Friday and visited places of interest.

Mrs. Ervin Barnstable, Jr., has been very ill since early last week and is in Woodstock hospital, but later reports indicate much improvement. Her mother, Mrs. Amann, near Round Lake, is caring for her small son.

Miss Barbara White, of Hampshire, Ill., spent last week with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Evans, and sang a solo at the worship service of the Community church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Nickerson and children spent last week visiting relatives at Elizabeth, Ill., and Galena.

Miss Elizabeth Petru, of Chicago, came Sunday to spend the week with her cousin, Mrs. Marie Hamlin.

Mr. Frank Moore, whose family has lived at Deep Lake for some time was married to Miss Gladys Becker, of Chicago, at the parsonage on Thursday morning by Rev. Dixon. The groom's mother, Mrs. Kathryn Moore, and the pastor's wife were the witnesses. The newlyweds plan to live in Chicago.

Mrs. Drake Bergen, who has been living in Chicago, and is now moving to New York City, spent a few days last week with her husband's sister, Mrs. Paul Avery, Jr., before going on to her new home in New York.

Genevieve Bristol Weds Mr. Osmond

In one of the prettiest of the early summer weddings, Miss Genevieve Bristol, daughter of the Harry L. Bristols, of Lake Villa, became the bride of Bernard Naber Osmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Osmond, Sr., of Antioch. The double ring ceremony was performed June 28 at St. Peter's church, Antioch.

The Rev. Francis Flaherty of St. Peter's celebrated the Nuptial High Mass, and the Rev. John Coleman, of St. Bedes, at Fox Lake, performed the wedding ceremony. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel Frawley, of Chicago, a lifelong friend of the Osmond family was an honored guest.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white gown trimmed with chantilly lace. Her veil, also of white, was accented with a crown of seed pearls, and her necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, was a single strand of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. William Gavigan, of Waukegan; and Lester Osmond, Jr., was his brother's best man. Mrs. Gavigan's gown was in yellow with accents of yellow ruching, and she wore a matching picture hat trimmed with blue corn flowers, which was repeated in her bouquet.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Ervin Neveit, of Antioch, and the Misses Beth Tiffany, of Waukegan, Jean Ogilvie, of Kenosha and Rosemary Tiffany, of North Chicago, gowns were in blue and matched that of the matron of honor. They also wore picture hats and carried yellow daisies.

The flower girls, nieces of the bride, Nancy Jo and Peggy Ann Gavigan wore identical blue dresses that also matched that of their mother.

The ushers were Louis Koppen, Jr., of Chicago; Lawrence and Russell Bristol and George Hawkins.

Mrs. L. V. Madden, of Antioch, sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride attended Waukegan Township High school and was a Civil Service employee at Great Lakes. Mr. Osmond is a graduate of the University of Michigan and attended Northwestern Law school. His fraternity is Delta Upsilon. He is now Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Sycamore, Ill., where he and his bride will make their home after returning from their honeymoon in Canada and the Eastern states.

The reception which was held at the Chain of Lakes Country club was attended by two hundred guests. Among those present were: Hon. and Mrs. Otto Kerner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kurth, Misses Mary and Virginia Kurth, Mr. James Nagel, Mrs. Louise Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph James, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chinn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dressell, Mrs. Jeannette Finn, Mr. Ed. Piper, all of Chicago; and the Fred Bristols and Mr. and Mrs. David Peters, of Crystal Lake; Frank Paige, of Peoria; Mrs. George Tiffany and Miss Ruth Peters poured.

HONORED AT POST-NUPRIAL SHOWER

Relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Seefeldt gave them a post-nuptial shower at their home at Round Lake Wednesday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alan Johnson, Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Joyce and Mrs. Mae Blael, of Waukegan; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Seefeldt and son, Bruce, of North Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Grenus and daughter, Carol, of Lake Villa; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Seefeldt and daughters, Elaine and Mrs. Fred Seefeldt, of Round Lake; Mary Ann, of Crystal Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Roman Seefeldt, of Lake Villa.

MRS. NIELSEN SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Chris Nielsen was guest of honor at a birthday surprise party, given at the home of her daughter Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petersen, of McHenry. Mrs. Nielsen received many lovely gifts from the group. A buffet dinner was served at noon. There were guests from Grayslake, Lake Villa and Kenosha.

MISS MARJORIE DOOLITTLE RECENT BRIDE OF R. BAETHKE

Miss Marjorie Doolittle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Doolittle, Route 173, Antioch, became the bride of Raymond W. Baethke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baethke, 911 Main St., Antioch, at recent rites held in the Peace Lutheran church, of Wilmet, Wis. The Rev. R. P. Otto officiated at the single ring ceremony.

Miss Doolittle was accompanied to the altar by her father. She chose for her wedding a white satin gown with marquisette skirt of floor length and a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolus.

The Matron of honor, Mrs. Russell Doolittle, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a yellow nylon taffeta and carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses. She also wore a head band of yellow roses.

James Harvey served as best man and the usher was Elmer Baethke, brother of the groom. Organist was Mr. Hans Von Holweide of Antioch.

A reception was held at the Doolittle home on Route 173, Antioch, immediately following the ceremony. Miss Shirley Wells and Mrs. Henry Quadenfeld, Jr., poured.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Antioch Township High school. The bride is a graduate of Lake College of Commerce and is now employed at the Antioch Township High school. The groom attended the University of Iowa and is employed by the Pickard China Company of Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Loggren, of Chicago, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runyard at their home at Channel Lake.

New Child Labor Law...

Authorized employees of the State Department of Labor an employment certificate issued by the local Superintendent of Schools for each boy or girl between the ages of 14 and 16 so employed.

In addition every employer of minors between 14 and 16 years of age must keep available for inspection a register showing the name, address, and place of residence of all such minors employed.

The Law does not apply to the employment of a minor under 16 engaged in agricultural work or in the sale or distribution of newspapers or magazines at hours when schools are not in session.

Hours of work permitted boys and girls under 16 are limited, by law, to not more than eight hours per day, forty-eight hours per week, and not more than six consecutive days per week. Children under 16 employed outside of school hours may not work more than three hours a day when school is in session, nor shall the combined hours of work outside and in school exceed a total of eight a day.

Work of more than five continuous hours must be broken with an interval of at least 30 minutes for meals. Breaks of less than 30 minutes are not deemed to interrupt a continuous period of work. No minor under 16 years of age may be permitted to work between the hours of 7:00 p. m. and 7:00 a. m.

Every employer covered by this Law must post in a conspicuous place an abstract of the Illinois Child Labor Law and a list of occupations prohibited minors under 16, and a notice stating the hours for commencing and stopping work, and the hours allowed for meals. Printed forms of such notice will be furnished by the Illinois Department of Labor.

Violations of the Child Labor Law are punishable by a fine of not more than $200.00 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 60 days, or both. Each day during which any violation of the Act continues shall be considered as a separate offense.

Administration of the Child Labor Law is placed with the Illinois Department of Labor, Division of Women's and Children's Employment, Florence M. Pacelli, Superintendent, 205 West Wacker Drive, Chicago 6, Illinois.

Breeding Ewes
Breeding ewes should be selected for uniformity of type and size if a uniform lot of lambs that will top the market is to be produced. Yearling and two-year-old ewes are preferable.

Machine Voting
Voting machines were used for the first time in the United States in Rochester, N. Y., in 1896.

Olcott Co. Makes Land Appraisals in Lake County

Antioch land values are appraised in a new publication, just released, called Olcott's Land Values Blue Book of Lake County. Ralph A. Olcott, who has published similar land values map books for the past 47 years, believes that Antioch and other Lake County municipalities will enjoy increased purchasing power as the long delayed building activity gets into full swing in the near future. This is borne out by the many inquiries for information on Lake County that are received daily by his firm from Chicago investors and loan agencies.

Mr. Olcott, commenting on Lake County, states that the inhabitants are fortunate to live among such beautiful surroundings such as: Small estates hidden in dense woods, Fine village homes with plenty of space to roam, Resort homes on beautiful lakes, Farms with better than average buildings mingled with farms classed as estates.

The publisher points out that people make land values, with their desire for choice locations. The ability to purchase make location values relative and so extremes in unit of values are usually present. This is not apparent in Lake County, where the surroundings of the humblest homes are as pleasant as those of the most pretentious.

Land-value units vary from $10 per front foot to $30 per front foot in the various residential areas of Antioch.

There is a tendency for close in acre property to develop into small acre home sites. Farm acres in the area are quoted at from $150 to $250 per acre for the land not considering the buildings on the land.

Decentralization of cities and redistribution of population are the topics of the day. These are cycles in the scheme of things, and as people move so do land values. Lake County in general is due for great increases in population.

Traffic Violations

Six principal traffic violations account for more than four-fifths of all auto accidents. Principal infractions are speeding, improper passing and disobeying stop sign or light.

Where Heat Goes
In a typical residence, 44.4 per cent of the heat is lost through roof and walls and it is to reduce this loss that both new and old homes are insulated.

Fuel Saving

Tests conducted by the federal government revealed that a house completely insulated with mineral wool reduced the fuel bill by 45 per cent.

Cooking Hint

In making cream of tomato soup, add the hot thickened tomato pulp and juice gradually to the cool milk. Heat briefly and serve.

Scotland Yard Plans to Stop Gang Warfare

Foul Leaders Warned to Call Off Impending Battles in Streets.

LONDON.—In an effort to put a stop to gang warfare in London, Scotland Yard is trying a new tactic that is causing no little astonishment to peaceable citizens. It is the duty of the police to protect.

London's lawless gangs, it appears, are no whit less vicious than those of New York and arm themselves with razors, iron pipes encased in rubber, revolvers and even Sten guns and hand grenades.

To avert an imminent clash, of which there had been warning, a call went out to police chiefs for leaders of the gangs, who were "invited" to the yard.

"One by one they took their places on the mat in Whitehall. They listened to a 'straight from the shoulder' talk from high police officials at Scotland Yard. They were told plainly what they faced if they allowed their men to begin shooting.

Listen to Reason.

"London's big shots were shaken. They thought the risk was not worth it and agreed to call it peace. Scotland Yard's effort at 'preventive' detection has succeeded for the time being.

"But the Stens and the grenades are cached. A spark to the dry tinder of the mobsters' vanity and hair-trigger tempers may yet mean a declaration of war.

"The London gangsters' operating methods and code of conduct are similar to those with which Americans in large cities are only too familiar.

"Their racket is not thieving, but 'Blacking,' by which they mean extorting 'protection' money from night club proprietors and race-course bookmakers.

"A bookmaker refusing to pay for protection cannot hope for a 'happy' race-course stand. If he tried defiance he would be beaten senseless. But as soon as he pays he can rely completely on an invisible bodyguard. His safety is the gang's care.

"Similarly the owner of a night club would have his premises wrecked if he refused the free run of his place to a gang that demanded it. He, too, may be asked for 'protection' money. He is safe from all rival gangs if he agrees.

Twenty to a Gang.

"For the first law of the gangs is that they shall not 'muscle' in on each other's 'territory.' If they do, then it's war—hitherto a war of razor-armed cut-throats, but in the future, should it break out, a battle between men armed like Commandos.

"The average strength of a gang is 20 men, but a leader who wishes to augment his force can do so by hiring toughs ready to stick at nothing. A man who 'enlists' like this may be paid as much as 20 pounds for one night's 'service.'

"The second cardinal rule is that in no circumstances may a gangster 'sneak.' If it comes to a fight and a man is hurt then the gang will look after him. If he goes to the hospital he must be primed with a story that will explain how he came by his injuries.

"A third rule is that as far as possible members of the public must not be hurt in a gang battle. The rule is imposed for self-protection: the gangsters know that if law-abiding persons are hurt in their battles the mob cannot prevent police action.

"Gang leaders have their own bodyguards of 'strong-arm' men."

Adrift Three Days in Wintry Pacific, Saved by Coast Guard

KETCHIKAN, ALASKA.—Douglas T. Binkley, 25, of Altadena, Calif., spent three days adrift in the wintry Pacific after the outboard motor on his small boat failed, it was reported. He was recovering from exposure at the coast guard sick bay here.

Binkley was returning to Port MacArthur after a visit at Cape Decision light station. The motor quit soon after he started and he decided to row the rest of the five miles.

He tied up to a kelp bed for the night and the next morning he discovered he had drifted six miles to sea. He rowed all day but was unable to reach shore because of a heavy surf. On the morning of the third day, he sighted the steamer Aleutian and improvised a signal by igniting gasoline and oil mixed in a can. He was picked up.

Kidnapor Is Sentenced To 150 Years in Prison

DIXON, ILL. — Circuit Judge George Dixon sentenced Frank Sickles, 27, to 150 years for the kidnapping of a doctor's wife, and to life imprisonment on four counts of kidnapping, armed robbery and burglary.

Sickles will not be eligible for parole until he is 97. For the first 10 years he must spend each Friday in solitary confinement. He committed the crimes Friday, December 20.

After the first 10 years, the Judge directed that he spend the anniversary of the crimes in solitary confinement. He was convicted of half-carrying, half-dragging Mrs. Della Stackhouse five miles after binding and gagging her two children.

Perform Brain Operation At Request of Burglar

PITTSBURGH.—The brain operation on an oft-convicted burglar requested as a means of ridding himself of criminal tendencies has been performed and pronounced a surgical success. The mental results will take time to determine.

The operation, known professionally as a prefrontal lobotomy, was performed upon Millard Wright, 38.

Wright, father of two children, is awaiting sentence for a series of burglaries. Convicted many times, Wright could be sentenced to life under the habitual criminal act.

Puts His Foot Into It, It's Sweet Fix

Sticks by Friend; but There's Too Much Shoe in Goo.

NEW YORK.—Joseph Giknis not only put his foot into it—he put both feet—and it took six husky cops to extricate him.

Giknis, a 40-year-old Brooklyn coal company mechanic, met a friend employed at a nearby railroad freight terminal. The friend said he had dropped a monkey wrench into an empty molasses tank car and asked Giknis to help him get it out.

Giknis said sure, and proceeded to let himself down into the car.

Right away he found the car not exactly empty, and himself in a sweet fix—too much shoe in the goo.

The molasses was ankle deep and, to put it mildly, somewhat gummed up the works, not to mention Giknis.

"What's the matter?" inquired his friend from above.

"I'm stuck," said Giknis, with the full meaning of the word.

The friend summoned other workers, who lowered a rope. Giknis didn't budge, and neither did the molasses.

The workmen got a rope ladder. Giknis still stuck to his stand in the matter.

A police emergency squad was summoned. The cops studied the situation—from above—and went to work rigging up a boatswain's chair.

Two hours after Giknis first found a kicker in the stickier, he fastened himself into the chair and the cops hauled away.

Out of the stickiness came Giknis, unhurt but not unsweatened.

"Get the wrench?" asked his pal.

Burns to Death Dancing On Pyre He Built Himself

DETROIT.—William H. Mathewson, about 60, police said, burned himself to death in Palmer park.

As two boys and a woman sought help, flames springing six feet high from a ring of lighted gasoline enveloped the man. Police Lt. Vincent Mann said Mathewson, a widower, obviously meant to take his own life. His landlady, Miss Margaret Allison, said he had been depressed.

Edward Benz, 13, and his brother, Michael, 10, said they saw Mathewson remove his overcoat, put his cane on the ground, and begin pouring gasoline on his clothes and onto the ground in a circle approximately 10 feet in diameter. Then he stepped within the circle, the boys related, and lighted the gasoline. The boys said he jumped up and down.

Mann said a gasoline station operator in the neighborhood reported Mathewson had purchased the gasoline from him, explaining his car's fuel tank had run dry.

Pistol Packin' Patricia Is Fined $50 for Reno Diddos

RENO.—Pistol Packin' Patricia Hoffman Nickerson Hoscheid of the New York social register was fined $50 after pleading guilty through her attorney to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

John Halley, the attorney appeared in police court for the honeymooning socialite and entered a plea of guilty. Judge Guy Walts imposed a sentence of $50 or 25 days and Halley paid the fine.

The pretty 23-year-old Patricia, recently divorced from Clark Nickerson of New York and married to a Kansas consulting engineer, was arrested two weeks previously when a Boston resident complained that she waved a pistol in his face at a night club.

Mate Rescues Army 'Chutis! In Plunge Toward the Earth

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA. — An army paratrooper whose chute collapsed while he was 100 feet off the ground was saved by a fellow paratrooper who managed to grab on to the useless parachute as it plummeted by his own chute.

Hero of the dramatic midair rescue two miles north of here was Pfc. Raymond Kenyon, Greenwald, R. I. Kenyon saw a crosswind collapse the chute of Cpl. Charles A. Harris, Waltonsville, Ill. As Harris hurtled by, Kenyon grasped the silk shroud of his chute and the two floated safely to earth on Kenyon's chute.

The army announced the parachute rescue was the second on record, the first occurring over Long Island, N. Y., in April, 1944.

Boy Confesses Killing Pal on 'Tree Gallows'

Body of Victim, 8, Was Found Hanging in Woods With Rope About Neck.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Carl De Flumer, 14, was charged with first degree murder after he confessed, the district attorney said, the slaying of a neighborhood playmate, 8.

The boy stood silently, head bowed, as Police Court Judge Robert J. Laffin read the charge accusing him of strangling Robert Wahrman by placing a rope about his neck.

Robert's nude body was found in a patch of woods in Loudonville, a residential suburb.

A piece of clothes line was wound around the boy's neck and was looped around a tree limb and tied to another tree.

The body, hands tied behind the back and with feet touching the ground, was found by three youths who called police. A crucifix and religious medals were around the dead boy's neck.

Blame 'Impulse.'

District Atty. Julian B. Erway said he believed the slaying was the result of "an impulse." He would not elaborate on a motive but quoted De Flumer as saying he "decided to kill" his companion as they played in a barn near where the body was found.

Erway declined to make public a statement made by De Flumer, but said the Wahrman boy had been killed by jerking of the rope. The coroner said death resulted from "suffocation from strangulation."

Erway quoted the De Flumer boy as telling him he stripped the Wahrman boy of his clothing "to remove the evidence."

The only spectators in the special court session were the accused boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. De Flumer, who live on the same street as the Wahrmans. Both wept throughout the five minute session.

"Can't I see him?" Mrs. De Flumer sobbed as her son was led from the courtroom.

Death Penalty Possible.

The parents were permitted to talk with the boy in an anteroom before he was taken to Albany county jail to await examination. A plea of innocent was entered for him. The charge of first degree murder carries a possible penalty of death in the electric chair.

The De Flumer boy, a first year high school pupil, was wearing blue dungaree pants and a lumberjack type jacket and held a cap in his hand during the court session.

He mumbled "I'm sorry" as he was handcuffed to a detective to be taken to the jail.

He was picked up in a police roundup of neighborhood boys after the Wahrman boy's body was found.

Wahrman, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Wahrman, was a third grade public school pupil. His father, a veteran of World War II, is employed at the New York Central railroad shops in West Albany. The De Flumer boy's father is a car builder for the railroad.

Parents of the two boys did not know one another and police said they understood the boys had become acquainted only recently.

Amputation of Leg Stirs Girl's Hope for Real Play

SPRINGFIELD, MASS. — Brave little 13-year-old Joan Marie Stump, happily looked forward to the day when she could "get around" like other girls after amputation of her crippled right leg—an operation carried out at her own request.

With an artificial limb, doctors believe Joan can discard within a few months the crutches she has worn since a malignant tumor left her a cripple at the age of five. Two years ago she broke the same leg and it never healed.

In her hospital bed, Joan is planning her new life—one that includes, among other things, a brand new bicycle.

Woman Is Acquitted in Bathtub Death in England

BRISTOL, ENGLAND.—Mrs. Rosina Ann Cornock, 34, an expectant mother, was acquitted of a charge of murdering her husband, Cecil, found dead in a bathtub at their home.

The jury of 10 men and 2 women deliberated an hour and 18 minutes after three days of testimony. The prosecution charged that Mrs. Cornock, in love with another man, bludgeoned her husband to death with a toy boat.

Yank Soldier Finds His WAC Wife Shot to Death in Reich

NUERNBERG, GERMANY.—T/4 Evelyn William Hickey, a WAC, was found shot to death in her billet here, military officials reported. The nature of the shooting was not disclosed. Her body was found by T/Sgt. Lawrence Hickey, to whom she was married last October. She was assigned to duty with the administrative division of the office of chief of counsel for war crimes. Army records listed her mother as Mrs. Reita Anson of Owosso, Mich.

SHORT STORY

Best Insurance

By HENRY SUTER

JONATHAN LANGDON waited patiently behind the diamond store, or in McLaughlin's jewelry store. He was one of the store's oldest clerks, quiet, dependable, efficient. He was pondering over something this morning and his fellow-clerk, Phillip Smart, in charge of the watch repair section, speedily observed it.

"I'm wondering about the old man," began Langdon. "For the life of me I don't see why he had to take out theft insurance. We've managed without it all the years I've been here and nothing has been taken yet. Burglar insurance, of course. But why spend money to protect yourself against theft out of the store when he must realize what a smart bunch he has toiling for him? Why couldn't he put that money to better usage by slipping me the raise I asked for?"

"I guess it was that glib insurance salesman he fell for," replied Phillip. "Sure enough, still I think the old man is wasting good money." The interruption was caused by the entrance of a customer.

This was a portly, middle aged gentleman, immaculately dressed, who would have made an impression anywhere. Langdon greeted him with his most gracious smile.

"I want something in a two carat solitaire, the very best you have in the place. It is for my daughter, and I want it as a graduation present!"

Langdon hurried to the safe and brought out a tray of sparkling beauties. Mr. Blake gazed upon them carefully one by one and finally selected one.

Langdon went back and put the rest of the tray of rings in the safe. "Just let me run up to the hotel and get my check book. You keep this stone until I get back."

Ten, 15, then 20 minutes lapsed and the customer had not returned to complete his purchase.

Just then the door of McLaughlin's office opened.

"Well, Jonathan," he began, "I presume you still think we do not need any insurance and that I should use that part of our budget towards giving you a raise?"

"Well, yes, I do think so really. You know my sales have almost doubled in the last year."

THAT is true, Jonathan, and I appreciate it. Yet you must consider that in selling diamonds, the store is taking big chances. I don't mean in just hold-up or a burglary. But just suppose some smooth artist came in here and got away with a valuable diamond."

"Oh! but they couldn't do that with me," returned Langdon promptly. "I've been here 10 years and no crook has ever gotten away with it, yet."

"That's what you think," smiled McLaughlin. "Now take that last customer. I watched everything from the start. You, of course, assume that everyone who comes in here is just as honest as you. That is why you left him standing there with a valuable diamond in his possession while you turned your back and put the rest of the tray in the safe. In the minute you were gone, he substituted a phoney diamond and walked right out with the genuine diamond."

"So you saw the whole thing, and let him get away with it! I don't understand."

"You can come in now, Blake!" called McLaughlin.

"Meet Mr. Blake, of the Dependable Insurance System," said the smiling McLaughlin.

"Sorry we had to make you the guinea-pig, Buddy," Blake began, as he took a sparkling solitaire out of his pocket and placed it upon the desk. "But I just had to convince your boss here how essential it is to have the insurance."

"Take a look at that diamond on your desk, Mr. McLaughlin," said Langdon calmly.

"Why, it's nothing but a phoney," he cried.

"Sure," remarked Langdon quietly. "You don't suppose I'd leave diamonds around for strangers to pick up, do you? I made the switch before I put the tray away in the safe. Now, Mr. McLaughlin, do I get my raise or don't I?"

White Animals

Although white mice are common in captivity, where they are bred in large numbers for laboratory use, they are comparatively rare in the wild. Albinism is in itself not rare; it may occur in many forms of wildlife. There are white crows, raccoons, opossums, squirrels, deer and even quail. The common belief is that such freaks do not last long, however, and this may be due to their conspicuous color, making them more susceptible to predation.

Sugar Cane

On his second voyage in 1493 Columbus took sugar cane to Hispaniola, or as it is now called, the Dominican Republic. From this island it soon reached Cuba, Puerto Rico and the West Indies. It was Ferdinand, who requested some cane of Cuba and was responsible for its introduction to that country.

Safety Rules

There are five fundamental safety rules that prevent accidents involving tractors. They are: (1) reduce speed before turning or before applying brakes; (2) don't ride tractor drawbar or drawn implements; (3) stop power 'take-off' before dismounting; (4) don't refuel when motor is running or extremely hot, and (5) don't operate tractor in closed building or near inflammable materials.

Water Power

Because of its many falls and rapids, Africa has more than one-third of the world's potential water power. But less than one per cent of it has been harnessed because the falls are in regions where it would be almost impossible to develop industries, says the World Book encyclopedia.

Fly Menace

To avoid the fly menace, follow these simple precautions: Clean up all fly-breeding places and keep refuse hauled out to fields; spray all farm buildings you use as shelter for stock, using a 2½ per cent DDT solution for the job; spray all livestock with DDT, the strength of the solution depending on the type of fly you are after; if animals are regularly near the barn, use quick-killing sprays daily to control the stable fly.

Welcome Babies

Parents aren't the only ones who welcome the arrival of new babies. A baby, figures show, will eat approximately 675 cans of strained baby food during the first 12 months. Estimated food bill for the baby's first year runs between $100 and $200, which has been instrumental in increasing the baby food business during the past two decades to a 100 million dollars retail volume annually.

Are you saving $123.00 and Raising 5 Big Calves?

At today's price on milk, it means more profit to you to sell all the milk you can. When you feed Purina Calf Startena you have more milk to sell because just one bag replaces 40 gallons of milk. Here's the proof of what you can save:

When milk sells for $3.60 cwt. (31½ a gal.) and Calf Startena costs $6.25 a bag—1 bag saves 40 gals. of milk worth ..... $12.40 4 bags per calf at a saving of $12.40 a bag amounts to ..... $49.60 Cost of 4 bags at $6.25 ..... 25.00 Savings per calf ..... 24.60 Average farm, 5 calves, saves—$123.00

And Purina Calf Startena is easy to feed—a complete ration. No mess with mixing gruel in buckets. It helps produce big, hearty calves, too, that are usually above the average in size at 4 months. Calves fed on Purina Calf Startena rarely have scours and are allowed to grow to full development. Come in and get the ration that will help you make profits this year—and help raise big calves on the Purina Calf Startena plan.

Uncle Sam Says

You have heard people say, "why save at a time when prices are going up?" We cannot all be economists; and it is perhaps just as well, for they seem to differ a great deal among themselves about the future. But we all know this: A man who saved a dollar 10 years ago is better off today than the man who didn't; and other things being equal, the man who saves a dollar today will be better off in 1957 than the man who doesn't.

United States Savings Bonds offer you the opportunity to save at a profit. Thus every $3 you lay away now will come back to you in 1957 with an extra dollar in interest. You don't have to be an economist to know a good thing when you see it.

U. S. Treasury Department

Transplanting Plants

The best time to transplant plants is when they are dormant, that is, before the spring growth begins. Many plants, however, can be safely moved later if they are carefully handled in transplanting. In transplanting, lift out the plant with a large ball of earth around the roots. Wrap it in a burlap cloth to hold the ball of earth around the roots. Set the plant in proper position, fill in with earth and firm it. Avoid cutting or breaking the roots, and give the newly-transplanted plant plenty of water and protection from hot sun.

American Word

"Lumber" is truly an American word. Records of 1663 refer to "lumber and other goods" which is believed to be the earliest official use of the word. The first American lumber mill was established in 1633—years before the word "lumber" was first used.

SHORT STORY

Nice Old Girl

By MARGARET COBB

WHEN Sally Carter spied the crisp green of the bill lying against the white of the sidewalk that bordered the engineering building, she dropped the handle of the baby carriage and swooped down upon it.

"Look, Richey, look!" she cried happily to the cheerful bright-eyed boy in the carriage. "A ten-dollar bill—a real, brand new ten-dollar bill. I found it myself, and I can spend it any way I please!"

Turning the carriage briskly to return the way she had come, Sally sped her son back toward the trailer camp that nestled at the foot of the hill, a haven for married student veterans.

Once inside her trailer home she hurriedly hung the pinafore in the tiny clothes closet and reached for her best skirt and sweater. "Do you know what I'm going to do with this money first thing, Richey?" she cried happily. "I'm going to get you a play pen, so you can stay out in the fresh air all day long and have plenty of room to wiggle around in."

Sally dropped the sweater to give the baby a quick, impetuous hug. "We'll get Daddy that pipe he wants, and maybe there'll be enough money left over to get me some dress material!"

Speeding joyfully across the campus toward town, her hand straying

In mid-afternoon, about the time Sally was unwrapping her gifts.

often to the money in her pocket, Sally suddenly slowed her pace, her face sober.

"Oh, dear," she thought, "I've been so happy about having some money all my own that it hadn't even occurred to me that it belongs to someone else. Oh, dear!"

PARKING the carriage at the door to the engineering building, she entered, hesitated a moment outside a door marked "Office," and went in. The secretary looked up as Sally laid the bill on the desk.

"I found this outside the building, Miss Hanson, so I guess it belongs to someone in here." She was talking fast, turning to leave.

"Wait a minute, Mrs. Carter," the older woman called. "You may as well keep it. I don't see how we can ever find out who it belongs to. 'Finders keepers,' you know. Now you just run along downtown and see what you can find to buy."

"Do her good to have some money all her own," Miss Hanson muttered as the door closed. "Of course I should have held it a day or two in case anyone asked about it, but that child probably hasn't had a dollar to spend as she likes since Richard entered here!"

In mid-afternoon, about the time Sally was unwrapping her new purchases at home, Richard Carter was frantically going through his pockets.

"I know I brought it with me," he muttered as he searched one pocket after another. "Good grief, what'll I do? It's all the money we had left for the rest of the month—a nice new ten-dollar bill. I must have dropped it when I opened my billfold sometime today."

A MOMENT later, as he was explaining his plight to the secretary, he was relieved to see a quick look of comprehension in her eyes. "You haven't had it turned in, have you?" he finished hopefully.

"Why, yes," she replied slowly, "I have. At least, a young lady gave me a ten-dollar bill this morning and told me she'd found it outside. It must have been yours. Wait a minute, I put it in my pocketbook for safekeeping."

Reaching into a drawer in the desk, Miss Hanson pulled out a well-worn black bag. After a moment's search she found a bill, tucked away with several one-dollar ones, that was crisp and new and had the numeral "10" in its corners. "Here it is," she said, handing it over with a smile.

The boy took the money with a grateful grin. "Well, thank goodness—we can eat for the rest of the month, anyway," he said as he left the office. "Thanks a million, Miss Hanson!"

Jar Peach Trees
Jarring peach trees during the blossoming period as a supplementary measure in peach curculionid control is recommended by horticulturists. It should begin at blossoming time and continue two or three times each week as long as beetles are caught.

Rotate Poultry Range
Rotating the poultry range, having it well drained and keeping young birds off areas used by older birds are some of the management factors contributing to the health of the whole flock. Prompt, accurate diagnosis in case of disease outbreak also is advised.

Route 21 and Grass Lake Road
Loon Lake Antioch, IllinoisAre you making
$8.80 a day on Ten Cows over grain ration cost?

It's more profitable for you to sell lots of milk today than ever before. Every extra drop you can produce means extra money. For the profit story on milk, let's look at the figures:

Say milk brings $3.60 cwt—grain costs $3.00 cwt—
and Purina Cow Chow Concentrate costs $5.00 cwt.
36 lbs of milk, or 4.2 gals., brings .....$1.30
Feed Cost per cow per day:3 lbs. Cow Chow at .05 lb. .... 15c
9 lbs. grain at .03 lb. .... 27c

Total cost grain ration ..... 42c .... 42c

Income over cost of grain ration per cow per day ..... 88c
Income per day on ten cows ..... $8.80

There's why it pays to feed Purina Cow Chow—the ration that is built to produce lots of milk. Purina Cow Chow is a proved milk-maker—cows at the Purina Research Farm helped develop it. It's made to hold cows up well in milk throughout the milking period. Come in today for Purina Cow Chow or Purina Cow Chow Concentrate.

SOY BEANS AND FLAX

Iowa's big contribution to national funds guaranteeing Victory Bonds will be enhanced in future years through its expanding production of soy beans and flax. It produced 39,312,000 bushels of soy beans and 2,420,000 bushels of flax seed in 1943 to aid the war. With increased demand for both products, farmers will be encouraged to expand their production. Iowa is first in output of red clover and timothy seed.

Sounding Balloons
Sounding balloons used by the weather bureau often reach a height of 15 miles before they burst. Instruments which the balloons carry to record weather conditions return safely to the ground on small parachutes.

Timely Sewing
Stitches in time save headaches for housewives. Pressing each seam before it is overlapped, keeping an abundance of pins on hand, letting dresses hang a day or two before hemming, and machine gathering by making two rows of large stitches and then pulling the lower thread are useful tricks for all sewing enthusiasts to know.

Devastating Weapon
Few modern weapons have been used in battle with more devastating effect than the ancient bow and arrow. Thirteen thousand English archers killed and routed an army of some 50,000 French within a few hours at the Battle of Agincourt in 1415. World Book encyclopedia relates. As late as the American Revolution, Benjamin Franklin recommended formation of companies of archers.

Uncle Sam Says

This is getting-ready time for my farmer nieces and nephews. Today's plowing and investment in money and labor may or may not pay off in rich crops. There's a big 'if' in every farm family's life. If the sun shines, if it doesn't rain too much, if we have a drought—if, if, if. However, there's one crop which has no 'if' side. It's a crop of Savings Bonds, which grows steadily, rain or shine, wind or calm, year after year until it produces $1 for every $3. My city nieces and nephews can plant this crop, too, by joining and staying on the regular savings plan or by arrangement with their bank.

Good Swimmer

A muskrat (musquash) can travel as far as 50 yards under water without coming up for air. His fur is nearly as fine and dense as that of a beaver. When treated and dyed it may be known as Hudson Seal, Wallaby, Velvet Coney, River Mink, Sealskin and a number of other trade names.

Uniform System

The nation's first statewide system of traffic law enforcement is being launched by cities in Michigan. The plan is designed to give both traffic enforcement officers and motorists an even break. Through its statewide use, the public will know what to expect from police in all communities. At the same time this policy will take cops "out from behind the billboard" by giving them a forthright enforcement formula. Key device of the system is a special uniform traffic ticket.
